Total Integration Security Products

PROTECTING THE WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE BRANDS.

PICA has partnered with numerous technology companies in the areas of security equipment, software, computer forensics, high-tech security solutions and product security and authentication devices, to integrate the best available science with PICA's services to offer turnkey solutions to its clients. PICA realizes that science can often not be effective without the human element (intelligence gathering) and the best use of human intelligence often involves leveraging technology.

PICA's unique approach to fully integrated product and brand protection services protects assets of Fortune 500 companies and various governments in excess of $100 billion US dollars in over 50 countries, worldwide.
